Rotary Pier at Kalamalka Lake Set to Open in May

COLDSTREAM – The Regional District of North Okanagan has received the final permit required to begin restoration work on the Rotary Pier at Kalamalka Lake.

“Approval was received on April 2, 2019, from the Ministry of Forest, Lands Natural Resources, and we will begin construction in the next couple weeks,” said Steve Burton, Burton Marine Pile Driving. “Work is anticipated to take two to three weeks, and our goal is to have the pier open to the public by early May.”

Flooding in 2017 caused extensive damage to the surface of the pier and the underwater supports, making it unsafe to access.

“Restoration work after natural damage, such as flooding, often takes an extended amount of time to complete because of the insurance claim and permitting processes,” said Mike Fox, General Manager of Community Services, RDNO. “We thank the public for their patience and are looking forward to reopening the pier in time for the hot, summer months.”

Residents are reminded to stay off of the Rotary Pier at Kalamalka Lake until the restoration work is completed, as the pier is unsafe in its current condition.
