Re: Submission of Support Letters for OCP Amendment and Rezoning Application
Proposed 127 Site RV Park 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road, Electoral Area "F"
Lot 1, Sec 14, Twp 19, R6, W6M, KDYD, Plan KAP45386

Dear Chair, Directors, and RDNO Staff,

Please accept the enclosed letters in support of the Official Community Plan amendment and rezoning application for the proposed 127-site RV Park at 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road in Electoral Area "F."

These letters have been collected from individuals connected to the Kingfisher and Mabel Lake area who wish to have their support registered as part of the public record for this application.

In total, 307 letters of support have been collected and are being submitted for consideration as part of the RDNO review process. This total includes the initial collection of letters previously provided, together with the additional letters now being submitted. Many of the individuals who signed also provided written comments. The comments received reflect several consistent themes, including:

- The need for additional RV accommodation and family recreation opportunities in the area.
- The benefits of a larger tax base, increased support for seasonal businesses, improved services, local employment, infrastructure improvements, safer roads and pathways, and more options for people who wish to stay in and enjoy the area.
- Confidence in the Laursen family's long-standing investment in the Kingfisher–Mabel Lake community, including the resort, marina, airpark, golf course community, and Club Kingfisher RV Park.
- Supporters frequently referred to this history as evidence that recreation-focused development in the area can be thoughtfully planned, well managed, and beneficial to the broader community.

The support letter acknowledges that the RDNO approval process includes appropriate professional review and oversight, including independent engineered water and sewer systems, geotechnical review, wildfire recommendations prepared by a qualified professional forester, and the dedication of a 10-metre-wide public trail along Enderby Mabel Lake Road.

We respectfully request that the full collection of 298 support letters be received, tallied together, and entered into the record for the OCP amendment and rezoning application.
Thank you for your time, consideration, and ongoing review of this application.

Respectfully submitted,
Sharon Lancaster

Property: 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road, Electoral Area "F" (Lot 1, Sec 14, Twp 19, R6, W6M, KDYD, Plan KAP45386)

The Kingfisher–Mabel Lake area has a long and positive history of recreation-focused projects becoming valued community assets when they are thoughtfully planned and managed. To Whom It May Concern,

I support the proposed application for 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road, RDNO File No. 25-0753-F-OR.

I believe this project will be a positive addition to the Mabel Lake area through responsible recreational development, tourism, community enhancement, and economic benefit.

Additional comments: I have been going to Maple Lake and the Maple Lake resort since the mid-80s . I am a previous owner of a lot I purchased from the Laursen,s I'm looking to purchase another lot in this new development. I wouldn't hesitate investing in a Laursen development. Their track record is very good. Also, we have had a motorhome and it's very difficult to find camping during the season. There needs to be more camp space available I believe.

Sincerely,

Re: Proposed Development for 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Rd

Please consider this letter as support for the proposed RV Park development at 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Rd. The ownership and management of Mabel Lake Resort feel this type of responsible development, undertaken by parties with significant track record of successful developments in the area already, will help to foster further investment in the area to also spur improved infrastructure and amenity development for the enjoyment and use of all members of the community.

We feel confident any challenges with issues such as traffic can be navigated through the cooperation of all affected parties in conjunction with other potential changes to road use designations and zoning as needed. It is our position that this development and others like it in the future will help to shape a positive community for those living in the area and invite guests from other areas who will then have more opportunity to enjoy what the area has to offer.

If you have any follow up request to this letter please email office@mabellake.com

Thank you,

My name is Kent Clark 33 Kingfisher Rd. I am a full-time resident of Kingfisher 64years. Our family owns the farm directly east of the subject property on the other side of Kingfisher Creek. I have always supported all development in our area and I am always in favor of change.

I hope there is no occupancy time restrictions within the development and there has been allowances made for families to live full time.

I do however, have a few concerns regarding the proposal. I've personally seen the area from the proposed lot 10 south underwater twice in my short period of time living on Kingfisher creek. I would recommend the developer look at moving the entire development further north into his property and perhaps putting storage upfront. There needs to be a lot of thought and Planning put into containing this wild River known as Kingfisher Creek.

I have been a large supporter of motorized recreation in this area for most of my life. There's been a lot of discussion about a public trail along Mabel Lake Rd. and apparently there is money set aside for this trail. We need to look at connecting the Resort area to the Noisey Creek FSR via Rohan Peters Road. A designated 4 season trail is a must for future growth and public safety. This needs to be discussed sooner than later as Hydro has planned upgrades on their system and will be replacing numerous poles during this upgrade and allowances should be made for a road side trail. There are numerous power poles that will need to be moved to accommodate the trail.

Decrease speed corridor needs to be considered from 31km east before further development is approved.

I know a lot of these topics are not the responsibility of the developer, but the responsibility of our local governments, but before we can approve, continued to growth these changes need to be made to increase our public safety concerns.

Property: 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road, Electoral Area "F" (Lot 1, Sec 14, Twp 19, R6, W6M, KDYD, Plan KAP45386)

The Kingfisher-Mabel Lake area has a long and positive history of recreation-focused projects becoming valued community assets when they are thoughtfully planned and managed. The resort, airpark, and golf course communities, marina, and Club Kingfisher RV Park are all examples of developments that have contributed to the area's character, enjoyment, and long-term use.

I/We, the undersigned, confirm that I/We are aware of the proposed Official Community Plan amendment and rezoning application for the property noted above.

I/We support this application to allow RV Park use, with the understanding that the RDNO approval process includes appropriate professional review and oversight, including independent engineered water and sewer systems, satisfactory geotechnical review of the property, wildfire recommendations prepared by a qualified professional forester, and the dedication of a 10-metre-wide public trail along Enderby Mabel Lake Road.

Management Summary

This report describes the results of an Archaeological Overview Assessment (AOA) and Preliminary Field Reconnaissance (PFR) of the proposed 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road (Figure 1). The PFR was conducted at the request of Terry Laursen.

The objectives of a PFR are to:

- Identify and ground truth areas of archaeological potential
- Identify archaeological sites where visible from the surface
- Recommend whether further archaeological work is needed

The PFR was conducted in May of 2026. The majority of the project area is considered to have low archaeological potential owing to extensive previous disturbance. Two areas of high archaeological potential have been identified (Figure 3). Based on the results of the PFR, it is recommended that AOP 1 be avoided, and AOP 2 be tested for archaeological materials. To facilitate the testing of AOP 2, it is recommended an archaeological impact assessment (AIA) be completed. An AIA requires a Section 12 Heritage Inspection Permit issued by the BC Ministry of Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development, Archaeology Branch.

It is recommended that an Archaeological Impact Assessment (AIA) should be conducted to ground truth the results of the PFR with a subsurface testing program for AOP 2. An AIA is conducted under a Heritage Conservation Act (HCA) Section 12.2 Heritage Inspection Permit issued by the Archaeology Branch.

The objectives of an AIA are to:

- Identify and ground truth areas of archaeological potential
- Identify archaeological sites where visible from the surface
- Perform subsurface testing at areas of archaeological potential (AOPs)
- Provide concurrent construction monitoring, if applicable
- Provide recommendations of site avoidance, if applicable

No PFR can guarantee the identification of all previously unrecorded archaeological resources within the study area. If unanticipated archaeological resources are encountered, construction in the vicinity must be suspended immediately. Affected First Nations communities and a qualified archaeologist must be contacted. If a qualified archaeologist considers the material to be archaeological in nature, ground altering activities may only resume with the approval of the Archaeology Branch.

Both electronic file and hard copy versions of Yucwmenlúcwu's deliverables shall not, under any circumstances, no matter who owns or uses them, be altered by any party except Yucwmenlúcwu.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Archaeological sites are automatically protected from inadvertent or intentional destruction by the BC Heritage Conservation Act (1996). If unanticipated archaeological remains are encountered, construction in the vicinity must be suspended immediately. Affected First Nations, the BC Archaeology Branch, and Yucwmenlúcwu must be notified as soon as possible of the existence of the archaeological remains and the nature of the disturbance.

This time limited study was designed solely as an Archaeological Overview Assessment and Preliminary Field Reconnaissance. The quality of information, conclusions, and recommendations contained in this report were based on (1) Information provided by the Client at the time of assessment, (2) information supplied by outside sources, and (3) the assumptions, conditions, and qualifications set forth in this report. 1 Introduction

This report describes the results of a PFR of the proposed 3315 Enderby Mabel Lake Road RV park proposed by Terry Laursen (Figure 1). The proponent seeks to develop up to 127 RV lots, plus utilities and amenities. Upgrades to the property will include leveling the terrain, installation of utilities, creation of roadways, development of RV lots, various amenities, and installation of a septic system. The proposed project area was subject to an AOA and PFR at the request of Terry Laursen to identify and evaluate the potential for the presence of archaeological sites and is the subject of this report.

This AOA and PFR were designed to assess the archaeological potential of lands within the proposed Project. This report does not address the potential for traditional use sites, nor should it be used to document First Nations' interest in the land. The AOA and PFR were conducted in accordance with the British Columbia Archaeological Impact Assessment Guidelines (Archaeology Branch 1998) and all applicable bulletins and guidelines. The AOA was conducted without prejudice to First Nations treaty negotiations, aboriginal rights, or aboriginal title.

1.1 Protection of Archaeological Resources in British Columbia

Archaeological sites in British Columbia located on public and privately-owned lands that pre-date AD 1846 are automatically protected from damage, desecration, alteration, excavation, or destruction under Section 13(2) of the BC Heritage Conservation Act (HCA) (Province of British Columbia, 1996). Some sites are protected through designation as Provincial Heritage Sites, under Section 9 of the HCA, or through automatic protection under Section 13 due to specified historic or archaeological values. Sites afforded automatic protection under Section 13 include heritage ship or aircraft wrecks, burial places with historical or archaeological value, rock art with historical or archaeological value, and archaeological sites occupied or used before AD 1846, or archaeological sites of unknown age with a reasonable possibility of having been occupied or used before AD 1846 (Province of British Columbia, 1996).

Protected sites may not be altered (changed in any manner) without a permit issued under Section 12 of the HCA. Archaeological sites of aboriginal origin may be subject to interpretations of the Supreme Court of Canada decision by Delgamuukw vs. British Columbia (Delgamuukw vs. British Columbia, 1997), regarding the fiduciary responsibility of provincial governments for the protection of cultural heritage.

1.2 Study Objectives

In 1998, the BC Archaeology Branch issued the British Columbia Archaeological Impact Assessment Guidelines (Archaeology Branch, 1998) to assist with the management of archaeological sites. These guidelines identify several types of archaeological assessments that may be undertaken depending on the design stage of the proposed development:

- AOAs are intended to identify and assess archaeological resource potential or sensitivity within a proposed Project area. Recommendations concerning the appropriate methodology and scope of work for subsequent inventory and/or impact assessment studies are also expected (Archaeology Branch, 1998).
- PFRS are intended to identify and ground truth areas of archaeological potential identified during the AOA. Identify any archaeological sites visible on the surface and recommend whether further archaeological work is needed.
- AIAs are required where potential impacts to archaeological resources are identified in the AOA. The AIA is designed to gain the fullest possible understanding of the archaeological resources which would be affected by the Project (Archaeology Branch, 1998).

This PFR study was completed as described in the Guidelines and is intended for the Project area as described in this report.

1.3 Project Description

The proposed project is to build an RV park with amenities on the subject property. At this time development plans are in progress with a general idea being presented in Figure 2. It is intended that the RV park contain around 127 RV sites with hookups, ample parking for owners and visitors, and a recreation/office building. A septic system will be constructed on the upper hillside terrace overlooking the RV park.

2 Methodology and Procedures

The study team conducted a background research program to assess and synthesize existing information pertaining to past uses of the study area. Sources of information consulted during the research program included the Remote Access to Archaeological Data (RAAD) application, topographic and satellite imagery, consultant and research reports on file with the BC Archaeology Branch, relevant published and unpublished reports, theses, and dissertations, archaeological literature, and traditional use information made available to the research team by Splatsin.

2.1 Assessment of Archaeological Potential

The archaeological potential of areas that could be affected by the proposed Project were assessed using a number of variables. Variables considered in the assessment of archaeological potential of the study include proximity to previously recorded archaeological sites, presence of materials suitable for the production of lithic tools, vegetation resource index information, including forest cover and stand age information to assess the potential for CMTs, terrain characteristics (distance to extant and relict water sources, extant and relict landforms commonly associated with recorded archaeological sites, glacial lake paleo-shorelines, slope, aspect, solar exposure, elevation, and soil drainage), proximity to areas of potential cultural significance, proximity to cultural resources (e.g., berry patches, fishing sites, travel corridors, hunting areas) and areas of cultural significance, and Historic land use and previous disturbance.

3 Cultural Setting

The Project is located in the asserted traditional territory of the Adams Lake Indian Band, Lower Similkameen Indian Band, Neskonlith Indian Band, Okanagan Indian Band, Skw!x̣ te Secwepemc, Snpink'tn Indian Band, Splatsin, and Upper Nicola Band.

An understanding of traditional lifeways of indigenous peoples is a critical component of locating and interpreting archaeological sites. Archaeologists previously relied heavily on the work of early ethnographers to understand traditional ways of life in their area of study. Contemporary traditional knowledge, available from descendant communities, has until recently received very little attention in this regard (Klassen, 2002). As such, contextual understanding of the culture which produced these sites has been at least partially biased by the ethnocentrism and ideological underpinnings of early ethnographers (Wickwire, 2005). Despite these limitations, early and more recent ethnographies provide a basic understanding of Secwepemc and Okanagan (Syilx) lifeways. A fulsome review of traditional lifeways and culture is beyond the scope of this AOA study; the following brief discussion of Secwepemc and Okanagan (Syilx) lifeways focusses primarily on settlement patterns and mobility, subsistence, and seasonal round in order to provide a basic contextual framework to understand the archaeological record in the study area.

A discussion of Secwepemc and Syilx spiritual and ceremonial life is beyond the purview of an AOA and PFR report written by the majority of consulting archaeologists currently practicing in British Columbia. Knowledge of spiritual and ceremonial life is available from Secwepemc and Syilx communities, at their discretion. Relative to other prehistoric activities associated with subsistence or habitation, spiritual and ceremonial sites may include intangibles and incorporate the natural landscape and some of these types of sites may not be as visible in the archaeological record.

3.1 Expected Archaeological Site Types

Based on a review of archaeological site types in the region, the following site types are expected to occur in the vicinity of the Study area: artifact scatters, rock art, cultural depressions, petroforms, habitation features, traditional trails, burial sites, subsistence features, culturally modified trees (CMTs), and other precontact site types.

3.2 Archaeological Resources in the Study Area

The British Columbia Remote Access Archaeological Database (RAAD) shows the proposed Project entirely within a polygon of high archaeological potential as modelled by the Okanagan Timber Supply Archaeological Overview Assessment (Arcas 1997). Twenty-four registered archaeological sites are located within 5 km of the proposed Project, one of which is located on the development property. The details of the sites are summarized in Table 1 below.

4 Results and Recommendations

Two Areas of Archaeological Potential (AOPs) were identified during the AOA. The remainder of the proposed development is deemed to be of low archaeological potential. AOPs are detailed in Figure 4 below. See Table 2 below for AOP details.

Table 2: Areas of Archaeological Potential

Area of Potential	Landform	Size & Dimensions	UTM	Recommendation
1	Kingfisher Creek 30 m riparian zone	~1000 m NE/SW x 30 m NW/SE	376870 E 5608478 N	No ground disturbance
2	Hilltop terrace	20 m N/S x 15 m E/W	123456 E 1234567 N	AIA subsurface testing program

The PFR revealed that the proposed development is situated on terrain that has been heavily disturbed through nearly 30 years as an active gravel pit. The terrain has been heavily altered with landforms removed and created through gravel sorting activities, as well as the creation of access roads.

The project area can be divided into three separate sections. The eastern boundary of the development property is demarcated by Kingfisher Creek, with a riparian zone of 30 m. This entire area has been deemed high archaeological potential and classified as AOP 1. AOP 1 contains existing archaeological site EdQq-29 and no ground disturbances can be conducted in this area without a Site Alteration Permit from the BC archaeology Branch. The archaeological recommendation for this AOP is no ground disturbance within the 30 m riparian buffer.

The majority of the property, which has been heavily disturbed by previous gravel pit activities is low archaeological potential. No original landforms remain, all tree cover is under 30 years old, and any original topsoil has been long stripped away. There are no archaeological concerns in this area provided development plans do not change to include unassessed areas (ex: additional lands added to development plan).

Photo 2: View west from just outside east development boundary showing agricultural disturbance in the foreground and level terrain within AOP2

Top of the hillside slope has minor disturbances through previous agricultural activities. The terrain is well draining and offers a predominately level area with an excellent vantage point. This area is deemed to be of high archaeological potential and has been classified as AOP 2. To facilitate the testing of AOP 2, it is recommended an archaeological impact assessment (AIA) be completed. An AIA requires a Section 12 Heritage Inspection Permit issued by the BC Ministry of Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development, Archaeology Branch.
